

Remembering Grace - A New Website Dedicated to the Memory of Grace Tam

By Chris Smith - pnwhikes.com

Dated: Aug 23, 2010

Remembering Grace (<http://www.pnwhikes.com/grace>) is a new website dedicated to honoring the memory of Grace Tam. Grace was killed when an SUV sized chunk of ice fell on her at the Big Four Ice Caves while hiking with her family.

Remembering Grace - <http://www.pnwhikes.com/grace>

A new website has been launched in memory of Grace Tam. Grace was killed when an SUV sized chunk of ice fell on her at the Big Four Ice Caves near Granite Falls, WA. Grace was hiking with her family when this tragic event occurred.

Remembering Grace is a celebration of Grace's life. Its goal is to tell Grace's story and to educate people about what has happened. Grace was a talented writer and the website features a number of her writings. Grace's family has a number of concerns about the safety of the Big Four Ice Caves, and the website addresses these concerns and asks people to help. The website also provides links to resources that every hiker should use.

Grace was a huge animal lover and she especially loved dogs. We have provided a link to the Seattle Humane Society and are asking people to donate in her memory.

Category	Hiking, Charity, Memorial
Tags	grace tam, big four ice caves, charity, memorial, dedication, humane society
Email	Click to email author
State/Province	Washington
Country	United States